II. Purposes and Legal Basis of the Data Processing

1. Processing of personal data when visiting our website and as part of marketing measures on third-party websites and in social networks

When you call up our Website, your browser will transfer certain data to our web server. This is done for technical reasons and required to make the requested information available to you. To facilitate your access to the Website, the following data are collected, briefly stored and used:

- IP address
- Date and time of access
- Time zone difference to Greenwich Mean Time (GMT)
- Content of request (specific site)
- Status of access/HTTP status code
- Transferred volume of data

Moreover, to protect our legitimate interests, we will store such data for a limited period of time in order to be able to initiate a tracking of personal data in the event of actual or attempted unauthorized access to our servers. We are allowed to process your personal data pursuant to Art. 6(1) (f) GDPR.

1.1 Cookies

This Website uses so-called “cookies”. Cookies are small text files that are stored in the memory of your terminal via your browser. Cookies cannot run programs or transmit viruses to your computer. They serve to make the Internet offer more user-friendly and effective overall.

In view of the importance of data privacy, and our obligations of transparency, we provide information below about cookies, how we use them on our website and what options you have if, despite the benefits they bring, you prefer to disable them. We will assume you agree to accept the cookies that we use on our website if you do not disable or opt out of them as described below.

1.1.1 Terminology

When trying to understand cookies, and how to control them, it can help to know some terminology:

- Cookies installed on your device by the organization running the website you are visiting are known as “first party” cookies.
- Cookies installed on your device via the website you are visiting by another organization are termed “third party” cookies. An example is a cookie set by a specialist website analytics company that provides the website owner with data on the numbers of people visiting its website.
- So-called “persistent cookies” remain on your device even after you close your internet browser. They are activated each time you visit the website that created that particular cookie. For example, where a “persistent cookie” is used on a website to remember your login details, you will not need to enter those details each time you visit that website.

- Session cookies, by contrast, are temporary and are typically used to enable the website to operate, e.g. by permitting a user to move from page to page without having to log in again. Once you close your browser, all session cookies are deleted.
- "Flash cookies" are installed from websites that contain media (e.g. video clips). This requires specific software. This allows content to be downloaded and information to be stored faster, e.g. that the content has been accessed from your device.

1.1.2 Cookies we use

To enhance user experience, this website uses 'persistent' and 'session' cookies for the purposes described below. These cookies are generally 'first party' cookies, but may also be 'third party' cookies.

(1) Website functionality

Cookies that are essential for our website to function technically or which provide a service or option that you have requested. For example, a cookie that "remembers" your authentication details so you can remain logged into secure internet banking facilities, or a cookie that remembers the country or language you have selected.

(2) Website performance analysis

Cookies that help us improve our website by providing us with aggregate statistics on how many users visit it, which parts of the site are viewed the most, and the city or regional location of those users. These may be installed by a third party analytics provider under a contract with us.

(3) Social Media

In order to share content from our website via social media channels such as Facebook or Twitter, a cookie must be installed on your device. For further information, refer to the guidelines of the company concerned.

(4) Tracking and Targeting Cookies

In order to be able to provide you with the most relevant information about our products and services, we use cookies to be aware of which content you have viewed on our website. We may also use this information for the purposes of our advertising campaigns on third party websites. In that case, we may also receive information about the websites of our marketing partners on which you saw our advertisements. Similarly, third parties may display their advertisements on our website and they may become aware that you have visited our website.

1.1.3 How to control cookies – Opt Out

We will not pass on the information stored in the cookies to third parties without your explicit consent. You can also view our website without cookies. Internet browsers are regularly set to accept cookies. To prevent the use of cookies by your Internet browser, you can (1) refuse the use of cookies when accessing our website via the cookie layer (if available) or (2) deactivate the use of cookies via the settings of your Internet browser. You can use the help functions of your Internet browser to learn how to deactivate and/or delete cookies in your browser. Please note that the deactivation/deletion of cookies may result in certain functions of our website no longer functioning as expected. Cookies that may be required for certain functions of our website are shown below. In addition, the deactivation/deletion of cookies only affects the Internet browser used for this purpose. For other Internet browsers, the deactivation/deletion of cookies must therefore be repeated accordingly.

The legal basis is Art. 6 (1) (f) GDPR. We store this data until the end of the term of a respective cookie or until you delete the cookies.

Further processing of personal data by means of cookies can be found in the relevant sections of this information.

The information generated by the cookie about your use of this website is usually transferred to a Google server in the USA and stored there. However, if IP anonymization is activated on this website, Google will reduce your IP address within Member States of the European Union or in other states party to the Agreement on the European Economic Area beforehand. Only in exceptional cases will the full IP address be transmitted to a Google server in the USA and shortened there. On behalf of the operator of this website, Google will use this information to evaluate your use of the website, to compile reports on website activity and to provide the website operator with further services associated with website and Internet use.
- (2) The IP address transmitted by your browser in the context of Google Analytics is not merged with other Google data.

1.2.2 Google Adwords

- (1) Our website uses the Google Adwords service. Google AdWords is an online advertising program from Google Inc, 1600 Amphitheatre Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA ("Google"). We use the remarketing function within the Google AdWords service. The remarketing function enables us to present advertisements based on their interests to users of our website on other websites within the Google display network (on Google itself, so-called "Google ads" or on other websites). For this purpose, the interaction of users on our website is analyzed, e.g. which offers the user was interested in, in order to be able to display targeted advertising to users even after visiting our website on other pages. To do this, Google stores a number in the browsers of users who visit certain Google services or websites on the Google Display Network. This number, known as a "cookie", is used to record the visits of these users. This number is used to uniquely identify a web browser on a particular computer and not to identify a person.
- (2) You can disable the use of cookies by Google by following the link below and downloading and installing the plug-in provided there: <https://www.google.com/settings/ads/plugin> . For more information about Google Re-marketing and Google's privacy policy, please visit: <http://www.google.com/privacy/ads/> .
- (3) Furthermore, we use the so-called Conversion Tracking when using the Google AdWords service. When you click on an advertisement served by Google, a conversion tracking cookie is placed on your computer or device. These cookies lose their validity after 30 days, and will only be used for personal identification. The information collected using the conversion cookie is used to generate conversion statistics for AdWords customers who have opted for conversion tracking.
- (4) You may refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on your browser, however please note that if you do this you may not be able to use the full functionality of this website. In addition, you can disable interest-based ads on Google and interest-based Google ads on the web (within the Google display network) in your browser by clicking the "Off" button at <http://www.google.de/settings/ads> or by disabling them at <http://www.aboutads.info/choices/>. 1.3 Social Media Plug-ins

We have implemented social plug-ins from Facebook and Twitter on our website. You can recognize the provider of the plug-in by the mark on the box above its initial letter or the logo. We use the so-called two-click solution. As a result, no personal data is passed on to the providers of the plug-ins during a purely informational visit to our website. We offer you the possibility to communicate directly with the provider of the plug-in via the button. Only if you click on the marked field and thereby activate it, the plug-in provider receives the information that you have accessed the corresponding website of our online offer. The data transfer is independent of whether you have an account with the plug-in provider and are logged in there. If you are logged in with the plug-in provider, your data collected with us will be directly assigned to your existing account with the plug-in provider. If you click the activated button and, for example, link the page, the plug-in provider also stores this information in your user account and shares it publicly with your contacts.

The legal basis for the use of the plug-ins is Art. 6 (1) (f.) GDPR.

Through the plug-ins we offer you the possibility to interact with social networks and other users, so that we can improve our offer and make it more interesting for you as a user. The plug-in provider stores the data collected about you as usage profiles and uses these for purposes of advertising, market research and/or demand-oriented design of its website. Such an evaluation takes place in particular (also for not logged in users) for the representation of demand-fair advertisement and in order to inform other users of the social network about your activities on our website.

We have no information on the deletion of the data collected by the plug-in providers.

You have a right of objection to the creation of these user profiles, whereby you must contact the respective plug-in provider to exercise this right.
